FOUNDATION IN FOCUS

AN EVENING OF GRATITUDE AND A CELEBRATION OF THE EXTRAORDINARY

When Ethan Lockwood spoke at the Confluence Health Foundation's Friends of the Foundation Reception this summer, he shared his gratitude for the many people who helped save his life—and a powerful reminder of why exceptional care close to home matters.

INSIDE THIS ISSUE

Generosity in Action
Your gifts create local impact.

Less than two years earlier, Ethan had been seriously injured in a car accident. Members of the Orondo Fire Department pulled him from the wreckage, and he was rushed to Confluence Health Hospital Central Campus, where care teams provided life-saving care.

Ethan remembers little of the accident or the weeks that followed. His family, however, remembers the steady care that surrounded them throughout his long recovery.

The Friends of the Foundation event gave Ethan and his family an opportunity to thank those who supported his recovery. It also celebrated the profound value of having exceptional care nearby when the extraordinary happens.

As donors, you are part of this work. Your gifts help Confluence Health meet our community's needs and ensure care is here when it matters most.

Ethan's story reminds us that gratitude is deeply personal—and, when shared, can bring our community together to celebrate the people, moments, and care that makes this such a special place. We are grateful to Ethan and his family for sharing their experience and to everyone who helped make his remarkable recovery possible.

OVER THE PAST FEW MONTHS, DONOR SUPPORT OPENED DOORS FOR STUDENTS, STRENGTHENED THE FUTURE HEALTHCARE WORKFORCE, CREATED MOMENTS OF CONNECTION, AND INVESTED DIRECTLY IN COMMUNITY HEALTH. THESE SNAPSHOTS SHOW HOW DONOR GENEROSITY HAS TRANSFORMED INTO OPPORTUNITY, ACCESS, AND JOY ACROSS OUR REGION.

GRATEFUL FOR YOU:

GENEROSITY IN ACTION

INVESTING IN OUR COMMUNITY'S HEALTH.

The Confluence Health and Wenatchee Valley Medical Group Community Health Partnership Fund awarded just over $505,000 to 75 local organizations working to improve health and well-being across North Central Washington. From expanding access to essential resources to creating new opportunities for connection and support, these grants invest in community-led solutions shaped by the needs of our neighbors.

SCHOLARSHIPS THAT STRENGTHEN CARE CLOSE TO HOME.

This year, the Foundation awarded more than $60,000 in scholarships to 24 individuals pursuing careers in healthcare; many of whom are already serving patients at Confluence Health. Each scholarship represents an investment by donors in people with the dedication, skill, and heart to care for our region for years to come.

INSPIRING THE NEXT GENERATION.

Fourteen local students spent a week exploring clinical spaces, meeting healthcare professionals, and imagining their own futures in medicine through CSI Camp. Made possible in part through a gift from Microsoft, the camp gave students a hands-on look at the many ways they can serve their community through healthcare.

GENEROSITY IN ACTION

"GROW OUR OWN" WORKFORCE INVESTMENTS.

Thanks to donor generosity, we're able to double the number of medical assistants receiving certification, expanding the program's reach to 20 people building healthcare careers close to home. By investing in experienced employees already serving in Confluence Health clinics, donors are helping strengthen care teams and ensure patients across our region continue to receive consistent, high-quality care.

CREATING OPPORTUNITY AND CONNECTION.

Community adaptive cycling events welcomed all to experience the freedom of riding in a way that fits their needs. Thanks to donor support, a series of summer events showed how care can extend beyond clinic walls for 49 participating individuals and their families.

INTRODUCING GRATITUDE NAVIGATOR.

SHARE. HONOR. GIVE. VOLUNTEER.

Gratitude can be a meaningful part of healing. That's why the Confluence Health Foundation launched Gratitude Navigator this fall, giving patients and families personal ways to recognize the care that made a difference. Whether they share a note or story, volunteer their time and talents, or make a gift, every expression of thanks honors caregivers and helps keep exceptional care close to home.

We're excited to see Gratitude Navigator inspire even more gratitude and connection between Confluence Health and the community they care for.

A SEASON OF GRATITUDE AND GIVING.

"We are deeply grateful for you."

Dear Friend,

As we enter a season centered on gratitude, we are reflecting on the people who make exceptional care possible across North Central Washington: caregivers who serve with skill and compassion, patients and families who place their trust in us, and donors like you who believe in the value of care close to home.

We are deeply grateful for you. Your generosity turns goodwill into action. It opens doors for future healthcare professionals, brings connection and dignity to patients and families, invests in solutions shaped by our communities, and honors caregivers whose work changes lives every day. Thank you for helping ensure exceptional care is here when our neighbors need it most.
